Explore! Lenbrook puts Buckhead and Atlanta at your fingertips. ^[1]

For as much as Lenbrook makes possible on its campus, you'll want to explore the city. Atlanta is full of things to do and see and the Buckhead area is prime among them.

Start by exploring this Buckhead website ^[2]. Then look at more exciting and fun opportunities nearby:

Within a short car or bus ride:

Phipps Plaza ^[3]: As the Southeast's premier upscale shopping center, Phipps Plaza is home to more than 100 specialty stores including Gucci, Giorgio Armani, Jimmy Choo, and Juicy Couture.

Lenox Square Mall ^[4]: Justly called the shopping mecca of the southeast and less than a mile away.

High Museum of Art? ^[5] (Woodruff Arts Center?): American painting and sculpture of the interwar years, 1918 to 1945, is a big acquisition category. It's a 15-minute drive from Lenbrook.

Atlanta History Center and Swan House ^[6]: Explore Georgia's past through award-winning exhibitions. The center also has two historic houses on the property including the famous 1928 Swan House.

Chastain Park ^[7]: Atlanta's largest city park is beautiful and tree-filled and includes jogging trails, a horse park and a popular summer concert arena.

In the greater Atlanta area:

The Atlanta Symphony Orchestra at Atlanta Symphony Hall ^[8]: Enjoy year-round performances by this nationally recognized ensemble, the sixth largest in the country.

The Atlanta Opera at The Cobb Energy Centre ^[9]: Experience the thrill and dazzle of live opera featuring some of the genre's brightest young stars.

Margaret Mitchell House and Museum ^[10]: Here's a wonderful peek at the old Atlanta in the home
